Miners At Work Today Before 6-Day Recess

(By Associated Press)
The nation's 400,000 soft coal miners entered the pits for the last time today before beginning a six-day work stoppage in memory of the Centralia, Ill., mine explosion victims—but industry generally appeared to face the prospect of curtailed fuel supplies with few qualms.

At regular month-end meetings of AFL United Mine Workers union locals, the coal diggers received orders passed down from UMW President John L. Lewis to stop work at midnight tonight for six days to honor the 111 Centralia dead.

There were no reports of dissent and one large group called for removal of Interior Secretary Krug as mines administrator.

Krug Drafts Senate Report
Krug said he would not enter into the mine work stoppage. "My sympathy for the bereaved families," he said, "is too profound to permit me to debate or to gloss over their misery by engaging in any press controversy over the catastrophe or its causes."

At the same time, the interior secretary stated he would make an early report to the senate on overall safety conditions in the nation's bituminous mines.

"The facts," he said, "will be known only upon completion of the several investigations now under way by the special senate committee, by the special board appointed by the governor of Illinois, and by the Bureau of Mines of the Department of Interior."

There were ample stock piles of coal at most industrial plants.

At the giant U. S. Steel Corp. in Pittsburgh, however, officials said eight blast furnaces might have to be shut down for lack of coke.

They said beehive ovens, which supply 20 per cent of the coke used to make pig iron, would be closed since workers are UMW members.

Youngstown, Ohio, steel sources also expected some reduction in output.

Little Hardship Seen
Lexington, Ky., where little coal has been delivered recently, faced a shortage. Many dealers said they had only two to four days supply on hand. Officials said the situation was not expected to become serious if mild weather prevails.

A spokesman for the Pennsylvania railroad said that line would not be affected critically by the mine shutdown but that some train crews would be laid off since they would not be needed to haul coal from the mines.

A leader of the Association of Western Railways said at Chicago, however, the shutdown "won't bring much hardship." An official of the Chicago and Northwestern railroad reported most roads have from 15 to 30 days' coal supply.

President Truman loses authority to control scarce materials

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, March 31—President Truman loses at midnight the biggest single grant of power handed over to the White House during the war—the unlimited authority to ration and parcel out scarce materials.

However, congress was set to stamp its final approval during the day on two measures salvaging a vestige of the Second War Powers act. The bulk of that measure dies at midnight, along with the six and one-half year old draft law.

The new bills, already approved by senate and house conference committees, were due for prompt presidential signature once they reach the White House. They provide:

An extension until Oct. 31 of sugar rationing and price control with the Agriculture department taking over both chores from OPA.

Emergency extension, until June 30, of allocation programs over tractors, automobiles, and fiber, the drug streptomycin, and cinchona (quinine), bark; plus limited controls in foreign trade.

Upon signing the bill, the President will abandon his authority to place any other materials under priorities, rationing or allocation, even in the event of a new national crisis arising from strikes, disasters or a revived threat of war.

Control over rubber, uranium ore, housing materials, exports, and construction—all formerly dependent on the Second War Powers act—already have been preserved under separate postwar legislation.

Other programs, all administered by the Civil Production Administration, will die at midnight. They include:

Inventory controls, which prohibit the hoarding and withholding of such things as washing machines and other scarce consumer goods; the allocation of steel and resins; the export quotas imposed upon the manufacture of automobiles; textile regulations; and a few other minor orders which are all that remain of the 700 industrial controls invoked during the war.

Draft Board Office Ends Work Tonight

Following the final board meeting Friday night the Salem Selective Service office will close its doors for the last time tonight. Clerk Ralph Woods said today.

The board, in six years, five months of operation, serving this area, handled the induction or enlistment of some 3,800 men.

Tuesday the Selective Service board and clerk automatically will become part of the Office of Selective Service Records and will continue to work until the records of every man who registered with them have been transferred to the Columbus central office.

The transfer of records will take about 60 days here, it is estimated.

Under an act passed by congress, all the affairs connected with selective service must be wound up not later than March 31, 1948. The number of persons in the national system's pay roll must be reduced from 12,000 to 1,200 by Nov. 1.

Airman Discovers Mystery Pyramid In China

Location of this giant pyramid, estimated to be more than 1500 feet wide and 1000 feet high, was reported by Col. Maurice Sheahan, far eastern director for Transworld Airways, in remote mountains of the Shensi province of western China. According to Sheahan, it dwarfs famed Egyptian pyramids and is unknown to the western world.

Two Columbus Fires Checked; Arson Seen

COLUMBUS, March 31—Firemen today began an inquiry into two fires which caused damage estimated at $200,000 over the weekend while police held a man on investigation of arson.

Flames which drove 14 persons from nearby apartments and injured a fireman still flickered at the Ohio Furniture Co. as the probe began.

Fire virtually destroyed the Fruehauf Trailer Co. Sunday morning.

Damage at each place was estimated at $100,000.

Fire Inspector Charles Riley said he arrested a man in the vicinity of the furniture company fire as he attempted to enter the burning building.

Riley said the man fled as firemen started to question him, and added the man interfered with firemen as they attempted to raise a ladder.

Fire Chief Clarence Ogborn said the five-story furniture building was blanketed by smoke when the first fire companies arrived, with the blaze apparently beginning at the rear of the structure.

Ogborn said all five floors were destroyed at the rear, that the roof caved in and part of the wall fell. Firemen said they feared other parts of the wall would topple before noon.

Fireman Harry Coontz, 28, received cuts on his hands when he slipped and fell on broken glass.

Two Hurt As Cars Crash On Bridge

While attempting to pass on a one-way bridge on Route 165, a mile and a half west of Greenford, Charles Coy, 60, of R. D. 5, Salem, and Curtis Coy, 50, of Greenford, damaged their automobiles.

Mrs. Coy, 61, suffered abrasions of the knees, state highway patrolmen said while Curtis Coy suffered a fractured nose and lacerations of the face.

James Flick, 44, of R. D. 4, Salem, was arrested by state patrolmen Saturday on a charge of failure to stop following an accident. His case is pending.

Flick allegedly drove away after his car struck another, driven by Gerald Smith, 19, of R. D. 4, Salem, at the intersection of Routes 165 and 45 at 10:45 p. m. Friday.

Bill Extends Rent Controls To Feb., 1948

Measure Approved by Senate Committee Continues Present Ceilings

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, March 31—Legislation continuing rent controls through Feb. 29, 1948, without a blanket increase in rents was approved unanimously today by the senate banking committee.

The bill provides for:

1. Establishment of five-man local advisory boards in each rental area with authority to recommend decontrol or rent increases on an area basis.

2. Transfer of the rent program from OPA to Housing Expediter Frank Creedon. Unless reversed by Creedon, recommendations submitted by local boards would go into effect automatically after 30 days.

3. Decontrol of new housing dwellings rented for the first time, houses rented for more than $225 a month, and hotels and motor courts.

4. Authority for individual states to set up their own rent control programs as soon as adequate action had been taken by state legislatures.

5. Evictions on "nuisance" grounds under state or local law, rather than OPA regulations.

Chairman Tobey (R-NH) told reporters that the committee rejected on a voice vote a motion by Senator Bricker (R-Ohio) to authorize a general 10 per cent increase.

Bricker said later he would offer his 10 per cent increase proposal as an amendment to the bill when it reaches the floor.

The same proposal was rejected by the committee a few weeks ago after a subcommittee, of which Bricker was a member, had voted for the boost. The committee set the measure back to the subgroup with orders to eliminate the proposed increase and a provision providing for enforcement through the courts rather than any centralized agency.

BOY HAS CUT FINGER WHEN HIT BY AUTO

Donald Hasbrouck of Youngstown was the driver of a car which struck Robert Goetz, two and a half years old, of 495 Franklin st., at the intersection of E. State st. and N. Lundy ave., at 4:20 p. m. Sunday, police reported.

Hasbrouck said the boy suffered no injuries other than a cut finger. He was treated at the Central Clinic. An older brother was walking with the boy before he darted into the path of the car, police said.

Cars driven by Joseph Sevensh, 47 Walnut st., Leetonia, and an unidentified woman collided on E. State st. near Hawley ave., at 9:05 a. m. today. The woman failed to stop, Sevensh told police.

A Lee Latimore of Alliance and Eugene Buckley, 151 Sharp ave., were the drivers of autos which collided at E. Pershing st. and S. Lundy ave. at 10:44 a. m. Saturday. Both cars were damaged but neither driver was injured.

One Dead, One Hurt In Shooting Scrape

(By Associated Press)
WILMINGTON, March 31—A 45-year-old father of two small children today faced criminal charges in connection with a weekend shooting fracas in which Simon Hurley, 66, was killed and Mrs. Geneva Ruth Enaw, 29, wounded seriously.

Clinton County Prosecutor George L. Schilling said the woman's husband, Owen Shaw, 45, would be charged with murder and shooting with intent to kill. Wounded in the shoulder and neck, Mrs. Shaw is in serious condition in Hale hospital here.

The husband was in county jail recuperating from wounds which Sheriff Howard C. Botts said, were self-inflicted about midnight Saturday as five shotgun blasts rang out to climax an argument between Shaw and his wife at Hurley's home about one mile east of Wilmington.

The sheriff said Mrs. Shaw gave this version of the shooting:

"The Shaws were not related to Hurley but he took them into his home several weeks ago after the family was unable to find a place to live. Last Monday Mrs. Shaw filed a suit for divorce.

Late Saturday night, Shaw returned from Dayton where he had been working as a laborer and quarreled with his wife over the divorce action. He then left the house and returned with a pump-action shotgun.

Hurley and Mrs. Shaw were sitting in the living room when Shaw fired two shots through the front door, then entered the house to fire three more, the last of which was turned on himself. He did not molest the two children sleeping in a bedroom.

Although wounded, Mrs. Shaw ran from the house to call authorities. Sheriff Botts said that when he arrived at the house he found Hurley dead on the floor, while Shaw was lying on the floor in a bedroom.

Ohio Legislators Reconvene Tonight

COLUMBUS, March 31—Ohio's lawmakers, with three months of labor behind them, return to the state capital tonight with the hope that a legislative program will shape up during the current week.

In three months of lawmaking only ten bills have been enacted—all of minor character.

House members are able to see one ray of hope, however, in the decision of their leaders to have the schools committee start developing a school financing program after such a program bogged down in the senate where it was expected to originate. The committee will start on the task Tuesday.

Some legislative leaders feel that Gov. Thomas J. Herbert should take more of a lead than he has done to date in developing details of school and local government financing plans he recommended in a general way.

Real Meeting Of Minds, Plea Of U.S. Leader

(By The Associated Press)
MOSCOW, March 31—U. S. Secretary of State George C. Marshall, in his bluntest speech of the conference, denounced Soviet Russia today for delivering "an ultimatum" to the Foreign Ministers council.

"Unless we can have a real meeting of minds and a real desire to carry out both the spirit and letter of our agreements it would be better if none were reached," the secretary of state declared.

"We can never reach real agreement on the basis of ultimatum or immovable positions," Marshall declared in commenting on the Soviet position that unless Russia received reparations from current German production no settlements could be reached.

He spoke just after the British had circulated a proposal by Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin to the council for the unification of Germany by July 1, this year, a unification which he said should be made effective by abolishing all restrictions on movement of goods between zones.

This proposal, obviously unacceptable to the Russians, provided that before any reparations could be paid the Germans would have to pay back sums advanced for Germany's maintenance by the occupying powers and meet the cost of occupation.

Criticism French, Also
At the same time that he commented on Russia's stand-pat position, Marshall criticized the French also for adopting the immovable attitude that they must have coal from the Ruhr or they would agree to nothing.

"It is not clear that the conflict inherent in these views can be reconciled, whatever position the United States may take," Marshall said.

"The Soviet delegation has suggested that it will be possible for the French to have their coal and still leave enough coal in Germany to manufacture the reparations the Soviet government demands," Marshall continued. "We do not agree."

"The French delegation believes that after it has obtained the coal it needs from Germany and has limited the (German) steel capacity to 7,500,000 tons it is still worth while to study the question of reparations out of current production. We do not agree."

He charged that the Russian proposal to reduce German imports in order to get reparations for Russia would reduce German food consumption to a starvation diet of 1,100 calories a day.

"Does the Soviet government make this proposal seriously?" he asked.

"The United States is opposed to policies which will continue Germany as a congested slum or an economic poor house in the center of Europe."

Affect Potsdam Agreement
Bevin's comprehensive 10-page proposal, in the form of an order of the council, would supplement and where necessary revise the Potsdam agreement.

However, the proposal, which became available for publication while the council still was in session, obviously will be unacceptable to the Russians in its main provisions, both economic and political.

Among other things it would have the effect of prohibiting immediate reparations from current German production, as the Russians demand, and it calls for a federalized form of government which the Russians oppose.

The plan was described in its text as a design for a directive to the Allied Control Council in Berlin for the second phase of the occupation.

In addition to calling for Germany to be made self-sufficient, the Bevin plan provides for repayment of sums advanced to Germany by the controlling powers.

Cars Stolen Here Sunday Recovered Near Rogers

James Bach, 317 1/2 E. Fourth st., reported the theft of a 1939 Packard four-door sedan from the rear of the Salem Diner between 1:40 and 1:50 p. m. Sunday. The car was recovered early today on Route 7, near Rogers.

Bach told police he left the motor of the car running when he went into the diner to get his wife. When he returned the car was gone, he said.

The Presidential Succession

With the favorable report by the Senate rules committee on the bill to make the House speaker first in line to succeed President Truman, the measure is due for probable passage in the near future. It passed the House by a wide margin at the last session but was killed by the Senate, which held out to have its own president pro tempore take precedence over the Speaker in the line of succession.

The Senate committee now agrees that the Speaker, by virtue of his election at two-year intervals, would come closer to being the popular choice than a senator elected for six years. So the Senate's presiding officer comes next after the Speaker.

The bill was opposed by all Democrats on the committee, and the Senate vote is expected to be along party lines, yet the plan is substantially the one recommended by President Truman in a message to Congress in June, 1945. He pointed out that he would be able to name his own successor through appointment of a secretary of state, and he declared that such power should not rest with any president.

The Democrats' objection to the bill is based on partisan interest; that regardless of which party is in power, it is the only fair way to designate a president in the absence of a vice president. The nation is fortunate that in the years when the secretary of state stood third in line of succession there never arose an occasion by which an added starter could have been sneaked into the White House on a fast, under-the-table shuffle. It would have been the Herman Tamadge case multiplied by 48.

Ohio Cities' Parking Headache

The proposal before the General Assembly to give Ohio cities the authority they need to ease their parking headache is one more request in a growing list reflecting a serious fault in government. Cities should not be so closely bound by remote authority that they can't use their own initiative to help themselves.

Parking is a problem common to all built-up areas. Every city is trying to do something about it. Cities that fail to do something about it are going to be in hot water, getting hotter from year to year as more people and motor cars choke their streets and strangle their business districts.

In the meantime, many Ohio cities want to take prompt action, including acquisition of off-street parking space. There can be no reasonable grounds for opposing the bill to let Ohio cities help themselves in the parking dilemma.

No Shooting Allowed

Supreme Court Justice Jackson's thoughtful comment that the world needs a new set of rules for waging wars deserves more sympathetic attention than it is likely to get.

From where the world is looking at war in 1947, with its World War II wounds still throbbing, rules don't seem to matter much. Ships get sunk when sighted. If civilians happen to be in the way, it's their funeral. Prisoners of war are abused whenever abuse seems expedient. Bombs are dropped as close to the target as possible. An atomic bomb doesn't even need to be close. Looting is frowned upon by officials, but practiced by everybody. Poison gas isn't used if the other side is prepared to reciprocate.

All is fair in war, because war itself is a violation of the rules. There hasn't been a war in the 20th century that was sanctioned by anyone, except the country which started it. To quibble over the kind of weapons used when no shooting is allowed seems sort of futile.

Purely Coincidental

One of the standard stories every year in the late March newspapers is the account of the Grand National steeplechase at Aintree, England. This is followed by interviews with winners of the sweepstakes lottery tickets.

There are certain parts of the accounts which seem to be the same year after year. The race over the 4½-mile course is run in a driving rain. The purse goes to a horse held at odds of 15 to 1 or better—this year it was 100 to 1—and the winner is never heard of again. The harder it rains the larger the crowd. This year there was a downpour and the attendance was around 250,000.

When interviewed, the sweepstakes winners are in an inarticulate ecstasy but manage to blurt out that, having come by great wealth, they see nothing but happiness ahead.

The fact that all this takes place within a few days of All Fools' Day is purely coincidental.

Tribute To Two "Veterans"

The closing of Fort Benjamin Harrison, Ind., and Fort Hayes at Columbus will make many a war veteran and many a member of the pre-war army think back on the days spent at those posts.

As headquarters of the old Fifth Corps area and home of the 10th Infantry regiment, the peace-time Fort Hayes was a quiet island surrounded by the bustling city of Columbus. In the war years, expedience necessitated sacrificing the tidy geometrical layout of buildings as temporary barracks and warehouses utilized all available space. Within the army the Fort Hayes Quartermaster depot was regarded as a model.

At Fort Harrison, in the pleasant rolling country north of Indianapolis, many an Ohio boy spent his first night away from home, heard reveille blown for the first time, felt the first thrill of pride as he stood at attention while the bugler sounded "To the Colors," and for the first time was subjected to the gender ministrations of the army sergeant.

In the war years Fort Harrison was a reception center and home of a finance school and general hospital, but in peace it was headquarters of the 11th Infantry regiment, great rival of Fort Hayes' 10th. Hundreds of Ohio men who were in their late teens in the '20s and '30s will never forget the months they spent with "the old army" at Fort Harrison when it was host to the summer Citizens Military Training camps. Fort Hayes and Fort Harrison may go, but they will not be forgotten.

GUARDING YOUR HEALTH

Dealing With Skin Cancer

BY HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

CANCER occurs in many parts of the body. A fairly common location for cancer is on the face, particularly about the nose and eyes.

Medical men know most of these skin cancers as basal cell epitheliomas. Quite fortunately, this type of cancer differs from others in that it does not metastasize.

This means that the tumor cells are not carried by the blood or lymph to other parts of the body to set up new growths in hidden and inaccessible places as is the case with so many other types of cancer.

In other words, a skin cancer is most likely to be a local disturbance, which with proper treatment can readily be done away with.

They Grow Slowly

Everybody should realize that these skin cancers grow slowly, so it is wise not to disregard a dangerous growth simply because it seems at the time to be making no particular trouble. Some such cancers may even take years to reach a size from one-half to an inch across.

The growth usually begins on a reddened, scaly spot which becomes a little thickened and shiny. The thickening may be so slight that it is barely noticeable. The central part of the growth becomes covered with crust and when it is knocked off or pulled off there is some bleeding. Then a new crust forms.

There is another form of this tumor called a rodent ulcer. It is a destructive growth which occurs mostly about the eyes, ears or nose. If allowed to continue this may destroy large areas of tissue.

While skin cancers are not as dangerous as many other types of tumors, they nevertheless should be promptly diagnosed and treated because they can mar the appearance to a great extent.

However, in treating skin cancers two main ideas must be kept in mind. First, to destroy the growth itself completely and, second, to keep from damaging the surrounding tissues.

According to Dr. Jerome P. Webster of New York the two main methods of treatment are X-ray and surgical removal. The type of treatment to be used will depend upon the location of the growth and its extent.

For example, if the growth is on the end of the nose, cutting off the growth might cause some deformity. Hence, X-ray treatment would, as a rule, be better.

On the Ear

On the other hand, if the tumor is located on the ear, X-ray treatment may cause inflammation of the ear cartilage, which is painful and difficult to heal. Many of the skin cancers may be eliminated completely with X-ray treatment without noticeable scarring. In cases which do not respond to the X-ray, surgical removal is employed.

Whenever a person has a sore which does not seem to be healing the doctor should be seen without delay. Rest assured he will make an immediate examination to determine definitely if the sore is a skin cancer and proceed to treat it accordingly.

Letters to Dr. Bundesen should be addressed in care of 235 E. 45th st., New York City.

Questions, Answers

Q—How long has the motorcycle been a part of the American scene?
A—Since about 1911. But they were used in France and Germany as early as 1885.

Q—What is the average temperature over the earth's surface?
A—60 F.

Q—What was the original meaning of the word Lent?
A—Spring. It is of Teutonic derivation.

Q—What was the origin of the $ sign?
A—There are half a dozen legends and theories. One reasonable one is that the $ came from the "U. S." prefixed to federal currency soon after adoption of the Constitution—written hastily and finally becoming what it is now.

MILK GOAL RAISED FOR CURRENT YEAR

Columbiana county farmers are urged to continue high production of milk in 1947 by Chairman Clifford F. Shaw of the County Agricultural Conservation (AAA) committee.

Larger amounts of milk are needed to meet greatly increased requirements, both for fluid and manufacturing uses, Shaw stated. Ohio goal for milk is approximately one percent higher than 1946 production.

This goal follows recommendations of the U. S. Department of Agriculture and the Ohio USDA Council, Shaw said. The goal indicates the highest rate of production considered possible to attain rather than how much milk U. S. consumers may require.

In this connection, Shaw spoke of the record 1945 production of 125 billion pounds of milk, including about 3 billion pounds from cows not on farms, and emphasizing that even this outstanding production rate could not meet all demands by U. S. Consumers for milk and dairy products. In addition, he said, it has been roughly estimated that consumers would like to have, and would probably take as much as 130 billion pounds of milk, provided consumer income holds up.

These continuing demands indicate a sufficiently strong market for milk to justify the all-out peacetime production efforts which the Department of Agriculture and the local county committee are urging. Chairman Shaw concluded by pointing out the protection afforded by the National Dairyman by the Stag-gill amendment, which requires the government to support prices of milk and butterfat throughout this year and next at not less than 90 percent of parity.

COUPLE LIVE IN CAVE ALL WINTER

CAMDEN, N. J., March 31.—Two ex-Californians didn't let the housing shortage bother them one bit—they dug a cave in a cinderpile and spent the winter.

No kidding. Mr. and Mrs. Francis J. B. Becker, looking a little scoty, told Judge DiMona in Camden police court they lived all winter in a cave they dug in a cinder pile under a viaduct.

"Yes sir," the 54-year-old gentleman said. "We have been living there since we came from California."

"Only place we could get to live." His wife, Bertha, 49, nodded, affirming hubby's testimony.

The couple had been arrested in vagrancy charges.

"Well," said Judge DiMona, "I'll dismiss the charge."

Production Pay Up

Ruhr Strikers Protest Meager Food Allowances

ESSEN, Germany, March 31.—New German demonstrations in the British occupation zone to protest low food rations were scheduled today in the Ruhr cities of Krefeld and Duisburg, but a third meeting in Cologne was called off at the last minute.

Some 4,000 Ruhr-valley coal miners, on a protest strike in Dortmund, had promised to go back to work today—but with the stipulation that they would stay on the job only if German families were given bigger food allowances.

In walking out Saturday, they said they had been getting scarcely two-thirds the standard ration, set at 1,550 calories a day for the economically merged British and United States zones.

In a public statement yesterday, William Asbury, British commissioner for the North Rhine-Westphalia area—embracing the Ruhr—conceded that full food rations had not been met in big Ruhr towns "for some time past."

Price Break Noted In Scrap Iron and Steel

CLEVELAND, March 31.—The magazine Steel reported today the long expected reaction in the run-away iron and steel scrap market culminated last week in a definite price break of $1 to 2 per ton.

The price break indicated strongly the top of the inflation movement in iron and steel and related markets has been reached, the trade journal said.

An increase has been noted in consumer resistance to the current high prices. "Fantastic prices" quoted on spot delivery of steel in the "gray" market have brought strong protests from buyers.

* WE, THE WOMEN

By RUTH MILLETT

Not long ago I wrote an article questioning whether or not we are doing right in pushing teenagers off into little worlds of their own, giving them canteens, and saying, "Now run along, children, and don't bother us grownups."

Their letters written in reply to the column were indignant. "After all," said the teenagers, "the canteens give us a place where we can get off by ourselves, away from grown-ups who aren't interested in the things we are and who don't even talk our language."

"Besides," almost every letter added self-righteously, "the canteens keep us off the streets."

Such letters make me wonder what we're doing to our young people.

Yes, they're off the streets. We did such a fine job of selling them that idea they feel very virtuous about spending all their spare time in leading lounges dancing and eating sundae.

SHOULD EXPECT MORE

In these canteens, we thought we had the answer to juvenile delinquency. But it certainly can't be the whole answer.

The boys aren't doing some practical work in off-school hours. Girls aren't learning how to run a home. Neither is contributing to family life.

Yes, they are off the streets when they're in their canteens. But is that all we should expect of high school pupils who in a few years will face the problems of earning a living, making homes, and bringing up children?

Social Situations

THE SITUATION: You receive an invitation to a wedding and the reception following, and wonder if it is necessary to send a gift.

WRONG WAY: Decide that it is not since you are not a close friend of the bride.

RIGHT WAY: Realize that an invitation to a wedding and reception really calls for a wedding gift.

THE SITUATIONS: A wife plans to have guests to dinner.

WRONG WAY: She invites the guests without asking her husband's opinion, chooses the menu without consulting him, decides after-dinner entertainment, etc.

RIGHT WAY: If she wishes her husband to enjoy the evening and to be as good a host as possible, she consults him beforehand about everything except minor details. He then has a chance to make suggestions.

Thousands Turn Out To Honor Cy Young Saturday

Youngster's Remarks Most Thrilling On 80th Birthday

BY FRITZ HOWELL
Ohio AP Sports Editor

COLUMBUS, March 31.—A high school youngster sat just behind us at Cy Young's 80th birthday party over at Newcomerstown Saturday night.

He was dressed in a baseball uniform as part of the atmosphere surrounding the gala event for the gallant old meekness. Speaker after speaker—a governor, a big league club president, a hurler who gained world-wide fame as the "Schoolboy wonder"—took turns paying homage to the old fellow who between 1890 and 1912 won 511 major league games, pitched three no-hitters, and won two tilts in the first World Series.

But of all the tributes paid the ancient but still stalwart son of the Tuscarawas hills, probably the greatest was one whispered by the youth behind us to his neighbor.

"Gee, I'll trade all my hopes for just a few of Cy's memories," was his awe-stricken contribution.

Cy's neighbors, and a host of

TRIBE BACK HOME AFTER TRIP; ROSS SENT TO MINORS

Kuzava Seems Clinched for Starting Berth; Gromek Still a Question

(By Associated Press)

TUCSON, Ariz., March 31.—The Cleveland Indians were back at their home training base today after a none-too-successful barnstorming tour of California.

The Tribe will resume its exhibition series with the Chicago Cubs today with Rookie Bob Kuzava, who has hurled 17 consecutive scoreless innings, and Steve Gromek sharing the hurling assignment.

Kuzava has been the most impressive flinger in camp and apparently has clinched a starting berth while Gromek has yet to show his old-time skill and definitely is a question mark.

Sale yesterday of Don Ross, 31-year-old utility infielder, to Hollywood of the Pacific coast league, reduced the Indian roster to nine infielders and a further cut is expected.

Sale of Ross came as a surprise inasmuch as Manager Lou Boudreau previously had stated that Don figured strongly in the plans for 1947. However, Boudreau now believes that Eddie Bockman will better fill the bill as a spare infielder and pinch hitter.

The Tribe dropped a 10 to 8 decision to the Chicago White Sox at San Diego yesterday.

Other scholastic scores: Sewickley 30, Canonsburg 23, Penn 20, Wilkinsburg 15, Struthers, O. 14½, Connelville 14, East Palestine, 13, Carick 10, McKeesport 7, Greensburg 5, Donora 4½, Derry 4, Aliquippa 4, Bridgeville 3½, Washington 2.

Training Camp Notes

(By Associated Press)

LAKELAND, Fla. — March 31.—The Detroit Tigers, rated in some circles as possessing the best pitching staff in the American league, are giving their hurlers plenty of opportunity to prove the high estimation in which the Bengals' mound crew is held.

Already, four of Manager Steve O'Neill's twirlers have hurled five complete games, a feat no other club can boast at this stage of spring training.

Colorful Dizzy Trout was the first to go the distance, dropping a 4-2 decision to the Boston Red Sox, and coming back four days later to go the route against the New York Yankees and win 3-2.

In between Trout's nine-inning chores, Fireball Virgil Trucks blanked the International league Buffalo Bisons, 6-0, and Freddie Hutchinson and Rookie Lou Kretlow hurled two Tiger squads to complete game wins over Kansas City and Newark respectively.

Dick Wakefield, Tiger outfielder, was sidelined with a pulled leg muscle received yesterday when Detroit lost to the Boston Braves, 4-3, in the last exhibition game of the training season here.

HOUSTON, Tex. — The Boston Red Sox open a long string of one-day stands here today by playing the local Buffs of the Texas league. Against New Orleans yesterday Pitcher Mel Parnell, a hometown boy, drew credit for Boston's 5-1 victory.

PHOENIX, Ariz. — The Chicago White Sox roster was trimmed to 38 yesterday when Jim Delsing, one of the more promising farmhands, was shipped to Hollywood in the buildup toward landing him in the Sox outfield next year.

TUCSON, Ariz. — Dayle Lade pudgy right-hander from Shreveport, allowed only two hits in five innings and fanned four for the Chicago Cubs against Los Angeles yesterday. He now has allowed only one run in 19 innings during the exhibition schedule, equalling Hank Borowy's record to date. Lade, however, has been used solely against minor league clubs, while all of Borowy's hurling has been against big leaguers.

MIAMI, Fla. — Mark Christman led the attack with three singles good for as many runs as the St. Louis Browns got to three pitchers for 16 hits to wallop Washington, 14-4, yesterday.

REDS MAY MANAGE BETTER THAN LAST

Eddie Miller To Report In Camp Today; Things Looking Up

By GAYLE TALBOT

TAMPA, Fla., March 31.—Up to today, when Shortstop Eddie Miller was scheduled to make a strangely belated appearance in Tampa, the Cincinnati Reds had looked like a double-riveted clinch to finish last in the coming National league race.

They could, with Miller fielding at his brilliant best, wind up no lower than seventh, or even sixth, the spect they acquired last season.

The three or four earnest youngsters whom Manager Johnny Neun has been trying out at the vital post simply haven't had it.

If the Reds are to produce any more runs this year than they did last, it looks as though the improvement must come through the acquisition of Augie Galan. The veteran playing irregularly for Brooklyn last year, posted a .310 average.

Augie, already a fixture in left field for the Redlegs, has been busting the ball in exhibition games from the clean-up spot.

SCORING HONORS GO TO McNEELY

NEW YORK, March 31.—Flipping 255 field goals and 215 free throws through the net in 33 games, Cliff McNeely, of Texas Wesleyan, won the 1947 National Intercollegiate individual high scoring basketball race with 725 points.

This is 82 points more than the 643 with which Bob Kurland, of the Oklahoma Aggies, won the title a year ago, and 133 more than the 592 Vince Hanson, of Washington State, scored in taking the 1945 crown.

Cocker spaniels got the name "cocker" from their use in hunting woodcocks in England.

High Scorers, Too

CHICAGO—Although professional basketball generally is considered a higher scoring sport than the college variety, figures compiled recently demonstrate that the pros score just slightly more points per minute than the Big Ten collegiate players.

Western Conference basketball teams have compiled 2.5 points per minute on the average this season, while pro teams in the Basketball Association of America counted 2.7 points per minute.

Returned From the Deep

The schooner A. Ernest Mills, carrying a cargo of salt, sank off the coast of North Carolina after being rammed. Four days later, she bobbed up to the surface. The salt had dissolved during that time.

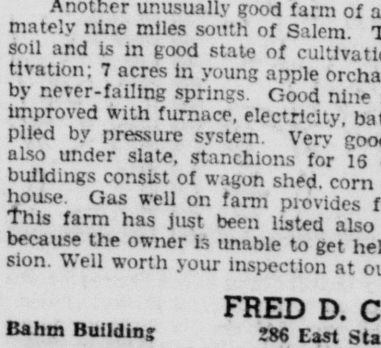

Scientists generally accept the fact that the earth was created out of the substance of the sun.

tion, composed of about 135 steel fabricating plants in Ohio, West Virginia and Pennsylvania, said member plants were "in good shape." He added: "They learned a lesson in the past and now have adequate stickpicks of coal."

The mourning period, which Lewis contended is provided for in the UMW-government contract, was labelled a "strike" by Walter Thurmond of Charleston, W. Va., secretary of the Southern Coal Producers association. He called the work stoppage "a peculiar method of paying respect to the dead."

Thomas Raney, UMW board member at Pikeview, Ky., said representatives of miners in the Big Sandy coal field, adopted resolutions which demanded the immediate removal of Secretary Krug as mines administrator.

At Bend, Ill., the 18,000 members of the largest local in the Progressive Mine Workers of America union (independent) voted to stay away from work today and give $7,800 to families of miners killed in the Illinois explosion. The independent miners will work the remainder of the week.

Funeral On Tuesday For Canton School Leader
CANTON, March 31.—Funeral service will be held Tuesday for Jesse H. Mason, superintendent of Canton public schools since 1928 and a well known Ohio educator, who died Saturday of a heart attack. He was aged 57.

Mason collapsed in the administration building and was dead on arrival at Mercy hospital.

His career began at Martins Ferry in 1919 where he was high school principal. Later he went to Zanesville High school as principal, then served as superintendent of schools at Chillicothe and Marion before coming here.

Great fires sometimes create clouds, and enough rain to extinguish the blaze.

Former Beauty Queen Is Willed $40,000 By Harry K. Thaw

PHILADELPHIA, March 31.—Blonde Ethel May Moody, one-time beauty queen, still was a bit confused today as she tried to find a reason for a $40,000 trust willed her by Harry K. Thaw, late millionaire playboy she claims she met, only once.

Miss Moody—crowned Miss Philadelphia in 1929—had recovered somewhat from her initial "I don't believe it" statement and though still a bit nonplussed tried to recall her meeting with the unpredictable Thaw, which she said occurred at the Waldorf Astoria hotel in New York, in 1928.

"It was a dinner or birthday party and I don't remember if we were formally introduced. Harry K. Thaw was sitting at the table across from me. It seems to me it was one of those how-do-you-do meetings and that was all. I have never spoken to him since."

Thaw, who died at his Miami Beach home Feb. 22 at the age of 76, left Miss Moody the largest single monetary bequest in his will, even greater than that left to his ex-wife, Evelyn Nesbit, for which he shot and killed architect Stanford White.

The 38-year-old model has real plans for use of the money whatever the reason for her getting it was.

"I'm going to begin to live now. I'll buy a lot of clothing for my children—Sonya, 12, and Harry, 8, children by a 1932 marriage—and give them luxuries they have been denied and an education."

Esophagus Operation Planned On Infant Boy

PHILADELPHIA, March 31.—Surgeons at Temple university hospital today planned an operation in an attempt to save the life of a four-day-old boy by linking his incompletely esophagus with his stomach.

The infant, yet unnamed son of Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Hanley of Greenville, S. C., was flown here yesterday in a C-47 from the army air base at Greenville.

The plane, piloted by Capt. Thomas E. Stewart and Major Orlo L. Austin of the ninth air force, landed at the Philadelphia naval base at 4:30 p. m. and the boy was rushed to the hospital by ambulance.

The boy, kept alive by intravenous feedings, was kept under observation during the night. The hospital said his chances of recovery are "very grave."

One physician said the boy's condition at birth, while unusual, turned up occasionally in newborn babies.
